

COLLECTOR MORRIS TELLS ABOUT THE DEBTS HE HAS TO PAY.

Justice Shepard Found It Hard to Make His Answer Questions on Cross-Examination—Justice Newton Also on the Stand.

The examination of two witnesses occupied the whole of yesterday's session of the Court of Mayor and Terminals in Brooklyn. They were Charles E. Morris and Justice Richard H. Shepard, both of whom are closely connected with the defendant, John Y. McKane, in the administration of affairs at Gravesend. On cross-examination they opposed skillful fencing to the questions of the counsel for the prosecution, and it was with difficulty that direct answers were obtained.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense. At last he said that the objections were made only with the purpose of interrupting the testimony whenever the witness grew uneasy. Morris was self-possessed in manner and answered with a commanding defiance that was exasperating to the prosecution. He displayed an occasional familiarity with Justice Richard H. Shepard, in contrast with his usually rugged English. The word "secular," which he said meant "week days," led Mr. Shepard into a long series of questions as to where he learned it. Mr. Shepard tried very hard to make the witness say that his lawyers taught it to him, but failed utterly.

Morris's testimony was chiefly in reference to the copying of the registry lists. Morris said he supervised this work under Justice Sutherland. With four exceptions the Gravesend copiers either were special policemen or had been connected with the Gravesend police force. At the events of October and November last year he had been acting behind the fact that for three weeks he kept them out of his thoughts altogether.

"And what three weeks were those?" asked Mr. Shepard.

"Oh, three weeks that I went away on a pleasure trip," he answered, carelessly, looking at the men who sat about Chief McKane.

It came out that this was the shooting trip McKane made shortly after election day, taking Justice Sutherland and others along with him to Virginia.

So you did not think of these things or talk about them at all during that time?

"Yes, I did refer to it, but never discussed 'em at all," was Morris's answer as he smiled back at the crowd sitting around Chief McKane.

He admitted following McNamara, Mr. Gardner's chief convict, from one polling place to another.

"What do you mean by protecting them?" asked Lawyer Shepard.

"Why, McNamara was going around from one polling place to the other asking the copyists questions and putting down answers in a book which I never made. So I went along to protect them."

"How did you protect them?"

"By answering for 'em—by answering when McNamara put questions to 'em."

There was more testimony concerning Law McNamara's relations on the day of the election. Some of the witnesses on Tuesday said that he only seemed drunk, but that the next day he was sober.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

STATION HOUSE ENTRIES.

COMPREHENSIVE BOOKKEEPING OF THE SERGEANT AT THE DECK.

Thirty Books Required to Watch to Record the Movements of the Men in the Station.

There are upward of thirty books in constant use in every police station in the city, and it is the Sergeant's duty to keep the records well up to date.

First and most important of these books is the blotter. It is the hourly record of everything which occurs in the station. In it is recorded the brief history of every arrest as soon as it is made. This includes the name, age and address of the prisoner, the name and address of the complainant, time and place of arrest, nature of offense, and name of officer making the arrest.

Many of these entries are duplicated in the telegraph blotter, in which are recorded all accidents, accidents, homicides, and the names of the officers which are reported to Police Headquarters, and also the general run of telegraphic messages from there.

These Headquarters messages are again sifted out into general orders and special orders to or from the Superintendent or Inspector, and entered in one or the other of the books of the General Superintendent's Office.

There is a Hobby Book in which all larcenies reported to detectives by the police are entered. It is a book full of the names of the most of whom believe that thieves could do the better of any one else but not of themselves, this book is kept pretty full.

There is a Book of the names of the prisoners who are taken into custody, and the names of the officers who are assigned to their care. It is a book which is kept pretty full.

There is a Book of the names of the prisoners who are taken into custody, and the names of the officers who are assigned to their care. It is a book which is kept pretty full.

There is a Book of the names of the prisoners who are taken into custody, and the names of the officers who are assigned to their care. It is a book which is kept pretty full.

There is a Book of the names of the prisoners who are taken into custody, and the names of the officers who are assigned to their care. It is a book which is kept pretty full.

There is a Book of the names of the prisoners who are taken into custody, and the names of the officers who are assigned to their care. It is a book which is kept pretty full.

There is a Book of the names of the prisoners who are taken into custody, and the names of the officers who are assigned to their care. It is a book which is kept pretty full.

There is a Book of the names of the prisoners who are taken into custody, and the names of the officers who are assigned to their care. It is a book which is kept pretty full.

There is a Book of the names of the prisoners who are taken into custody, and the names of the officers who are assigned to their care. It is a book which is kept pretty full.

There is a Book of the names of the prisoners who are taken into custody, and the names of the officers who are assigned to their care. It is a book which is kept pretty full.

There is a Book of the names of the prisoners who are taken into custody, and the names of the officers who are assigned to their care. It is a book which is kept pretty full.

There is a Book of the names of the prisoners who are taken into custody, and the names of the officers who are assigned to their care. It is a book which is kept pretty full.

THE EVANGELIST'S BRIDE.

HER AND HER HUSBAND WILL BE WEDDED.

The Private Car Homecoming Ready for Their Reception, and the Curious Little Fun to Be Done for the Young Bride.

Evangelist John Philip Quinn, the reformed gambler, and his seventeen-year-old bride, the daughter of his fellow evangelist, E. F. Goff, had not returned to the bride's parental roof up to late hour last night.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

THE EVANGELIST'S BRIDE.

HER AND HER HUSBAND WILL BE WEDDED.

The Private Car Homecoming Ready for Their Reception, and the Curious Little Fun to Be Done for the Young Bride.

Evangelist John Philip Quinn, the reformed gambler, and his seventeen-year-old bride, the daughter of his fellow evangelist, E. F. Goff, had not returned to the bride's parental roof up to late hour last night.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

THE EVANGELIST'S BRIDE.

HER AND HER HUSBAND WILL BE WEDDED.

The Private Car Homecoming Ready for Their Reception, and the Curious Little Fun to Be Done for the Young Bride.

Evangelist John Philip Quinn, the reformed gambler, and his seventeen-year-old bride, the daughter of his fellow evangelist, E. F. Goff, had not returned to the bride's parental roof up to late hour last night.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

THE EVANGELIST'S BRIDE.

HER AND HER HUSBAND WILL BE WEDDED.

The Private Car Homecoming Ready for Their Reception, and the Curious Little Fun to Be Done for the Young Bride.

Evangelist John Philip Quinn, the reformed gambler, and his seventeen-year-old bride, the daughter of his fellow evangelist, E. F. Goff, had not returned to the bride's parental roof up to late hour last night.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

The bride was a young girl, the daughter of a reformed gambler, and her husband was a reformed gambler. They were both reformed gamblers.

NO LAWYER WANTS THE JOB.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WOULD TAKE THE INVESTIGATION WOULD TAKE TWO MONTHS, ANYWAY, AND COULD NOT BE HELD WHILE THE LEGISLATURE IS IN SESSION.

Charles Stewart Smith, President of the Chamber of Commerce, sent yesterday to all the newspapers a copy of a letter which he had written to the Chairman of the Senate Committee appointed to investigate the Police Department of this city. The letter was the result of a conference between Dr. Parkhurst and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Trade and Transportation and the City Club, at the Chamber of Commerce, on Tuesday evening. Mr. Smith was appointed to write it, and the others agreed to sign it.

The opinion was to the effect that there was in the public mind a great and thorough and searching investigation of the Police Department, and that nothing short of a special committee would be able to do this work without ample time for preparation, and that the Chamber of Commerce had no objection to the proposed special committee for at least two months would be necessary. It was also stated that the Chamber of Commerce had no objection to the proposed special committee for at least two months would be necessary.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session. The Chamber of Commerce would take two months, anyway, and could not be held while the Legislature is in session.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.

Justice Shepard's cross-examination of Mr. Morris was in a tax collector at Gravesend and had charge of the men who were found copying the lists by the parties sent down by Mr. Gardner. Mr. Shepard, who cross-examined him, was soon obviously irritated by the fencing of the witness and the objections of the lawyers for the defense.